Enthusiastic Educator, Musician,
Innovator, Problem-Solver, Obsessive
Learner, Creative Dissenter

Meredith Colby is an author and the creator of Neuro-Vocal for Popular Styles, a way to approach vocal coaching that blends the art of singing with the science of the brain. With her background as a freelance singer, along with her obsessive interest in neuroscience, Meredith is a groundbreaker in the field of education for the singing voice. With her book Money Notes: How to Sing High, Loud, Healthy, and Forever, Meredith introduced Neuro-Vocal for Popular Styles, and since its release an ever-growing number of voice professionals around the world are empowering themselves and their clients using these ideas to coach singers of microphone-based genres.

Serving it up

Meredith is an energetic presenter. Organized and articulate, her ability to engage a group while communicating lasting ideas is practiced and reliable. Her knowledge and enthusiasm for her areas of expertise will engage any audience of voice users or teachers.

Money Notes

I highly recommend this book to any singer or singing teacher who was trained classically, but wants to sing contemporary and commercial music effectively and effortlessly.

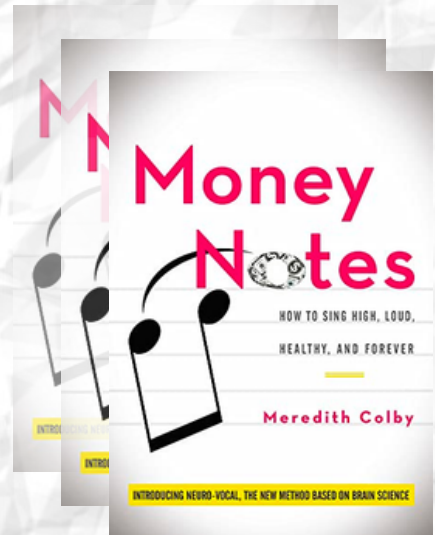

KAREN SUSSMAN, MA, CCC,
VOCOLOGIST AND SINGING TEACHER

Considering much of the book deals with neurological concepts, the tone of "Money Notes" is wonderfully casual. ...easily accessible...with simple language and enjoyable wit.

HILARY ANN FELDMAN, VOICE & SINGING TEACHER

Until now, there has never been a pop/rock method based on brain science. Meredith Colby's Neuro-Vocal Method is absolutely brilliant. It's practical. It's easy. It produces results. Highly Recommended!

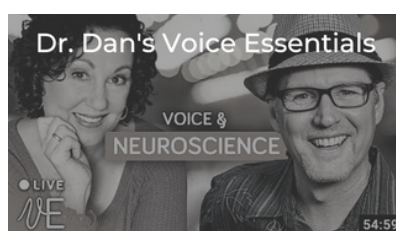

AMAZON BOOK REVIEW

Available at Amazon, Barnes & Noble and AbeBooks

Money Notes: How to Sing High, Loud, Healthy, and Forever (Wiselink, 2016) introduces Neuro-Vocal Method, an unconventional approach non-classical singing. Based on principles grounded in neuroscience, Neuro-Vocal is specifically for singers of rock, pop, r&b, jazz, and all the styles we sing into microphones.

TESTIMONIALS

What they're saying...

Working with you was a dream! I cannot recommend Neuro-Vocal Method highly enough! It's not only been a gift to share with my students, but it's been a blast to reconnect with the music that made me fall in love with singing. Thank you!

MARY MCMURTERY

Thank you for giving me the tools to be in the best vocal shape of my life, thank you for inspiring me, thank you for designing a systematic, clear, bullshit-free approach to helping singers become the singer they want to be.

NICOLE GEORGE

NVM is elegantly clear and straightforward, and even though it's designed with microphone singers in mind, I find that the principles apply across all styles of vocal music. Thank you, Meredith, for sharing NVM with the world!

GRACE GORI

Student after student has been making breakthroughs, and fast. And in myself, I'm excited and curious to explore the freedom offered by microphone singing. I am so impressed at how you created this method. It feels simple, elegant and adaptive.

SAMUEL PALMER

...immediately applicable, paradigm-shifting material. Not only has this training been beneficial to me as a teacher, but as a vocalist as well! So freeing and empowering. This has absolutely been the best professional development program I have ever taken (and I have done a lot!). I have never been so excited for a studio year to start because I know this is going to rock my students' worlds!
